Migration guidelines from PIC18 to STM32F0 Series with software expansion for STM32Cube

Data brief

Features

- Device selector to find out the appropriate sales type for the user application.
- Dedicated application note (AN4705) available on www.st.com with an example showing how easy the migration can be.

Description

The migration guidelines describe the differences between the microcontrollers of the PIC18 family and those of the STM32F0 Series, indicating a methodology to migrate easily an application based on PIC18 to the STM32F0 platform.

The application note AN4705 contains a short description of those architectures and their development environment.
